The Department of Data Sciences and Operations in the Marshall School of Business invites applications for a tenure-track position in Operations Management starting in Fall 2016. Rank is open. The candidate should demonstrate a strong potential for scholarly research in Operations Management and an interest in teaching Operations Management at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Operations Management (or a related discipline) or be assured of its completion by Fall 2016. Candidates with interdisciplinary interests in Operations Management and other areas such as Operations Research, Computer Science, Statistics, Information Systems, Economics, and Marketing are welcome.

Please apply at:  http://jobs.usc.edu/postings/55078

Candidates should provide their curriculum vita, copies of representative research papers, research statement, three references, and any teaching evaluations. We will begin reviewing applications on October 25, 2015 and will continue until suitable candidates are found. For full consideration, please submit your application as soon as possible.

Information about the Data Sciences and Operations department, its faculty and the Marshall school can be obtained at: http://www.marshall.usc.edu/dso.

Located near the heart of Los Angeles, the University of Southern California is home to approximately 40,000 students and 5,000 faculty members. USC Marshall is renowned for its high-ranking undergraduate, graduate, international and executive education programs, an exceptional faculty engaged in leading-edge research, a diverse and creative student body, and a commitment to technological advancement. The research productivity of Marshall’s 200 full-time faculty ranks among the top 15 business schools in the world.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.